Description

A very stylish solid sterling silver and green onyx Art Deco desk calendar. It is hallmarked for London 1931 with the maker being Padgett & Braham Ltd. It has been superbly made being mounted on a green onyx base. It is in super condition being free from dings splits chips cracks and repairs. It works perfect, you hold the central drum and rotate the textured edges to change the date numbers, the reversible cards slide in to show the month. The calendar measures approx. 2.5 inches (6.3cm) across by over 1.5 inches (4cm) wide by 2 inches (5cm) tall and the base 3.25 inches (8.2cm) across by over 2.25 inches (6cm) wide and the whole piece weighs 162 grams (including the base). A superb item.
