Description

An early desirable form of 17thc gateleg table from the reign of William & Mary...it is of a very useful size and stands on an attractive trestle base, supported at each end by nicely shaped cut baluster supports....I particularly like the silhouette shape to the legs....the iron hinges are early replacements from the 18thc, and you cannot see where the original ones were...fine colour & patina. English. C1670-80.
