Description

A Really Splendid Antique Edwardian Claret Jug formed in clear glass with a sterling silver hinged lid, spout and handle. The silhouette is tall and elegant, with a gently waisted body. The silver mount has a clean, architectural handle with squared lines, giving the piece a confident late Edwardian character. Hallmarked for Birmingham, 1910. * While traditionally used for claret, it would also serve attractively for water, cordial, or as a distinctive bar piece for mixed drinks. Measurements: Height: 11 1/2" (approx. 29.5cm) Diameter at base: 4 1/2" (approx. 11.5cm) Total weight: 990g In good condition – The silver shows only light surface consistent with age and gentle use. There are no chips or cracks to the glass.
