Description

An exceptionally good quality large English Art Nouveau gilt bronze antique chandelier by G.E.C with slender shaped central column and bulbous body, finished with elongated finial underneath. The beautifully made chandelier has six arms with scroll design which terminate to bobèche trays and cups. The light hangs on a substantial 40cm long chain which can be shortened, and it comes with its original bronze 11cm wide ceiling rose. The gilt bronze has been cleaned and lacquered to prevent tarnishing and the chandelier has been rewired and is in working order. Height - 75 cm (29 ½ inches) Width - 70 cm (27 ½ inches) Depth - 70 cm 27 ½ inches) Overall height including the chain and rose is 122cm (which can be reduced) Circa - 1890 G.E.C (General Electric Company) was established in London in the 1880s by Gustav Binswanger. By the 1890s the company had expanded opening new factories manufacturing lighting, and exporting around the world. They was known for their quality lighting, and the demand for lighting made G.E.C's fortune. During the First World War, G.E.C was heavily involved in the war effort. They supplied radios, signal lamps, and the arc-lamp carbons used in ...
