Description

Quality Untouched Brown Leather Victorian Armchair A high quality, untouched 19th-century brown leather button back club armchair of substantial and well balanced proportions. The generously shaped frame features a deeply buttoned upholstered back and arms, all retaining the original brown leather. Refined details include elegant scrolling arms, a sprung seat with loose feather filled cushion, and close-nailed brass stud decoration. The chair is raised on square tapering legs, giving it a clean, understated profile that complements its classic form. The leather displays a beautiful, untouched golden brown colour with a rich, even patination developed over many years, making the chair both visually striking and extremely comfortable. In superb original condition, with no damage or repairs, it represents an excellent example of Victorian period seating. The seat height is 49 cm. Overall, this club armchair is in very good original order, combining real comfort with strong decorative presence. Its warm tone and exceptional patina clearly reflect the quality of the piece and the careful maintenance it has received over time. Height 86cm (33.9in) Width 91cm (35.8in)...
