Description

This exquisite Louis XVI style two-tier galleried side table showcases the elegance of 18th-century French design. Crafted from rich amboyna veneer, the table features a stunning, kidney-shaped top adorned with a delicate ormolu gallery. The warm tones of the amboyna are complemented by gilded ormolu mounts that enhance its luxurious appeal. A single drawer provides functional storage, seamlessly integrated into the design. The table is supported by elegantly curved cabriole legs, each adorned with intricately detailed ormolu accents that echo the craftsmanship of the period. This piece is not only a functional item but also a striking decorative element. Signed ; Tehan Royal Patronage: Jean-Pierre-Alexandre Tahan (1813-1892) was appointed the official cabinetmaker to Emperor Napoleon III and Empress Eugénie Batch 86
