Description

A Georgian Windsor armchair. Constructed from Elm and Ash, circa 1760. A lovely, early example of a Windsor chair, most likely from the Thames valley region. Great original colour and patina to the wood. The ends of both the back legs and front legs have been historically and sympathetically restored, to the highest of standards - thus priced accordingly. Minor imperfections and signs of historic woodworm, to be expected. Structurally sound. SH 44cm
