Description

English, Circa 1900. A large mahogany bookcase, with breakfront shape and glazed doors. This is a very big piece of furniture, breaking into 2 pieces with the top section having a dentil cornice with decorative thumbnail carvings above 3 astragal glazed doors with working locks and key. Inside each section there are 3 height adjustable shelves. Very nicely carved rams heads are positioned each side of the doors - a really good feature on this piece. This sits on a breakfront mahogany base, with 4 doors displaying beautiful flame mahogany oval and square shaped panels, with working locks and key. There is a single shelf inside each cupboard. Raised on short square tapering legs with fluted detail. In good condition, with some marks in keeping with age. Bearing the makers stamp inside the drawer - "Warings" W 229cm (90.25") D max 55cm (21.75") H 234.5cm (92.5") Base H 95cm Top L&R interior W 56cm D 24.5cm H 119cm Top central section interior W 97cm D 28.5cm H 119cm Base L&R interior W 57cm D 40cm H 71cm Base middle cupboard interior W 101cm D 44.5cm H 71.5cm
