Item Reference: SA1222528

Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Description

An outstanding antique alabaster/stone death mask of L'Inconnue de la Seine (the Mona Lisa of the Seine- a young, drowned, unknown woman pulled from the water in the late 1800s). Super quality and undoubtedly made by a quality studio. Slight nibbles to bottom edge of neck and some discolouration. A beautiful piece extremely well modelled with the most serene face. Two small holes at the top of the head, may have had a hanging loop. No signatures or clues where thisw fine example might have been produced.
