Description

A pair of well detailed gilt arm or elbow chairs in generally good condition and solid to sit on. The age of these is a little hard to determine but we would guess early 1900s. The upholstery is very tidy and they have hardly been used since it was done for an event company that used them as props. They have been stored in their warehouse and to my knowledge have only been out twice since the upholstery. Seat height is 40 cms and the depth is 57. They will fit into many locations and give some impact as the carvings are detailed and considerable. Tops of arms, the back, seat facings etc are all detailed. Gilt is used but highly serviceable.
