Description

A magnificent traditional French Empire antique chandelier, crafted in brass and crystal, showcasing the timeless elegance of classical French design. The chandelier is crowned by a simple brass band adorned with sparkling icicle drops and delicate crystal beads. From the crown, cascading rows of faceted button crystals descend gracefully to an ornate central brass ring, creating a refined sense of movement and light. Eight elegantly scrolled brass arms extend from the central band, each supporting a bulbous candle holder that enhances the chandelier's stately silhouette. Beneath, a beautifully formed crystal "bag" is composed of graduated chains of faceted button crystals, adding depth and sophistication to the design. Three concealed internal downlights illuminate the crystal basket from within, producing a warm, radiant glow that highlights the brilliance of the crystal and creates a captivating ambience. Rich in period charm and exquisite craftsmanship, this classic French Empire chandelier is an exceptional statement piece, equally suited to traditional and contemporary interiors. c1920's.
