Description

Pair of Georgian Brass Eagle Candlesticks A fine pair of Georgian brass candlesticks featuring eagle supports and circular bases — beautifully detailed and full of period character. Full Description A handsome pair of Georgian brass candlesticks, each raised on a circular base with a central baluster stem and eagle motif at the foot. The eagles are finely cast with outstretched wings, supporting spherical knobs that lead to the candle holders above. The design combines neoclassical elegance with symbolic strength, typical of late 18th century craftsmanship. The brass has developed a warm, mellow patina over time, enhancing the sculptural detail and authenticity of the pair. These candlesticks are both decorative and functional, offering a refined accent to a mantelpiece, dining table, or sideboard. Details Period: Late 18th century Origin: England Material: Brass Dimensions: H 18 cm | W 10 cm | D 10 cm Condition: Excellent antique condition with age-related wear and patina consistent with use Provenance: English private collection Styling Notes Perfect for adding Georgian elegance to a room. Their symbolic eagle motif and golden tone pair beautifully with antique s...
