Description

Original 1830s lithograph “Hare Coursing” by C. H. Weigall from British Field Sports. Early sporting art in a later frame, full of period charm. Why We Love It ... This is a classic piece of early British sporting art - lively, detailed and full of 1830s character. The coursing scene is beautifully composed, with the greyhounds in full pursuit and riders observing from the hillside. The warm toning of the original lithograph adds to its antique charm, while the later frame makes it easy to place in any interior.
