Description

A charming early oak Bible box of traditional sloping form, handcrafted in solid oak and retaining a wonderful deep, rich colour. The sloping hinged lid opens to reveal a practical fitted interior comprising a series of pigeonholes above a spacious storage compartment, making it ideal for the safekeeping of documents, letters and treasured possessions. The box retains its original iron strap hinges together with the original iron lock plate to the front, all contributing to its authentic period character. Displaying attractive wear, a mellow colour and pleasing surface texture throughout, this is a genuine early country-made piece with all the individuality expected of handmade furniture from the period. Item Reference: M-6965 . Dimensions: Height – 35cm / Width – 69cm / Depth – 52cm CONDITION REPORT: Good antique condition with age-related wear, marks, scratches and minor knocks consistent with its considerable age. Historic losses and wear around the front edge and lock area are present as photographed. There is evidence of historic woodworm to the rear, which is long inactive and has been treated as a precaution. The piece remains solid, structurally sound and full ...
