Description

Fine Worcester porcelain small slop bowl decorated with a "gentlemen's mandarin" type pattern. Scenes of Chinese figures separated by small panels with gilded seaweed background and simple decorative reserves of a vase of flowers in one and a rock and tree in the other. A similar bowl is illustrated in Coloured Worcester Porcelain Of The First Period by Marshall, number 879. It measures 12cm (4 3/16") wide and 5.5cm (2 1/4") high. Condition is excellent with just a couple of very minor chips to the footrim. No repair or restoration and very minor handling wear, mainly just to the gilding on the rim.
