Description

Albert Goguet Mantelet (1858–1958) A charming portrait of a young woman, resplendent in her finest Sunday bonnet. Albert Goguet Mantelet was regarded as one of the most accomplished pupils of Ernest Hébert and Heinrich Lehmann. He became renowned for his elegant portraits of fashionably dressed women from French society. His refined style earned critical acclaim, and he quickly established himself as a successful artist. Throughout his long career, he specialized in genre painting. His works are held in the collections of the Musées de Château-Thierry and the Musée Tavet-Delacour in Pontoise. Condition Heavy craquelure is present but remains stable, particularly where the paint surface is at its thickest. There is some overpainting visible in the upper-right area of the sky. Dimensions Unframed: 39 × 32 cm (15.3 × 12.6 in) Framed: 52 × 55 cm (20.5 × 21.6 in)
