Description

For your consideration is this fabulously stylish 1930's Art Deco cocktail cabinet. This cabinet dates to the 1930's and has all the bells and whistles you want from a cocktail cabinet. The exterior showcases richly figured burr walnut, while the hinged upper section opens to reveal a beautifully fitted interior, original mirrored panels. Inside, you'll find purpose-made compartments for housing a selection of glassware and accessories for serving drinks. The lower section of the cabinet opens to reveal a very generously sized shelving space for glasses and bottles. This area will take full size liquor bottles. The cabinet itself is veneered in the most glorious walnut, with heavily figured patterns. We've had the whole cabinet restored and so comes to you in great condition. Overall size of this cabinet is also very appealing, large enough to house all your requirements but not so big and rambling to take over a room. For international customers this piece will be sent in a custom made crate with door to door delivery. This cabinet has a timeless presence and is a superb example for collectors or anyone looking to add a statement piece to a lounge, bar, or family room. ...
