Description

A Victorian deer's foot page turner with silver deer's head mount and cow bone blade c.1900. The deer's foot with silver shoe to the underside of the hoof for engraving the owners initials, plus superbly detailed double sided deer's head mount to the top with inset rubies for eyes. The silver mount supporting the thin cow bone blade for turning or marking the page. Superbly made and detailed, this page turner is presented in immaculate condition and has been tested as silver but is without visible hallmarks.
