Description

This sought after bronze by Antoine Louis Barye depicts a water buffalo in composed profile, embodying quiet strength and natural dignity. The animal stands squarely on a simple rectangular base, its weight evenly distributed through sturdy legs, conveying stability and mass. Barye's sensitive modelling captures the sagging contours of the torso, the pronounced spine, and the muscular tension beneath the skin. The curved horns frame the head with distinctive character, while the lowered gaze suggests calm alertness. An attractive, rich green patina enlivens the surface, pooling in recesses and catching light along raised forms. Signed Barye
