Description

Antique Hebdomas Patent 8-day pocket watch. The watch has an 8-day stem-winding movement which is working nicely... over a week, it gained around two minutes per day. The movement is covered by a large barrel which has details of the watch and also various dates and locations, presumably when and where medals were won. The watch measures 47mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is sterling silver and there are hallmarks inside the case back for London (import mark), 1918, with a sponsor's mark for George Stockwell. From 1 June 1907, Stockwells acted as assay agents, facilitating the import into Britain of foreign gold and silver items which had to be assayed and hallmarked in a UK assay office before being released for retail. The front of the case is in good condition, there is some unevenness to the back. The glass lens is in good condition. The dial is signed Hebdomas patent, and has the visible balance. There are quite a few very faint hairlines to the dial, not immediately apparent to the naked eye. The watch comes in a new presentation box.
