Description

A good quality Victorian oak partner's desk dating from the mid to late 19th century. It has two drawers on both sides with turned knobs. The top has a good quality green leather writing surface with gilt tooled edging and it stands on turned legs with its original castors. It is a good large size with ample leg room of 23 3/4" (60cm). The desk is in very good condition with a lovely warm colour. It is generally clean and tidy throughout and the writing surface is in good order. The drawers open smoothly and the desk moves well on its castors. There are normal signs of light wear and age, some minor marks and wear on the leather, a few odd marks in the drawers and a small chip on one knob but nothing detrimental or untoward and it displays beautifully. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
