Description

An exceptional, museum-quality pair of antique Norwegian wooden expedition skis, complete with their original matching bamboo and leather poles. Standing at an impressive 233cm (7ft 8in) tall, this set offers incredible scale and dramatic visual appeal, making it a perfect centerpiece for premium ski lodge decor, luxury chalet styling, or high-end retail windows. Maker's Mark & Provenance: The underside tips of the skis feature a crisp, clear blind stamp reading "L.H. HAGEN & CO. CHRISTIANIA". L.H. Hagen was Norway's premier early winter-sports outfitter, famously chosen to supply specialized sledges and skis for Captain Scott's legendary Antarctic Terra Nova Expedition (1910-1913). Because the stamp features the name "Christiania" (which officially changed to Oslo in 1925), this pair is firmly dated to the golden era of polar exploration between 1900 and 1924. The front face bears bold gold historical monogram initials 'G DK'. The pair retains the original period-correct metal and leather cable bindings, and are complete with matching original bamboo poles featuring authentic leather hand straps and classic circular snow baskets at the base. Beautifully preserved, struct...
