Description

A 17th-century English oak refectory table from the Charles II period (1660–1685). It features a lovely original patina with a warm natural colour from centuries of age and use. The table retains its original two-plank top, stretchers, and refined, elegant baluster-turned supports. It's in lovely original condition totally usable on a daily basis, and easily seats six. The table is available on its own for £1800 or with the option to purchase it together with a set of six additional 18th-century oak chairs for £2,500. Dimensions: 189 cm L x 63 cm D x 76 cm H
