

SA1224188

19th Century Iron Coopers Sheep Dip Advertising Sign

Price

GBP 3,250

| USD $4,431 | EUR 3,792

Item Reference: SA1224188

Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Dimensions

Height = 108 cm (42.5")

Width = 112 cm (44.1")

Description

An interesting 19th century advertising sign in sheet iron with original paint finish. Cooper's Dipping Powder. In 1849, William Cooper became one of the first veterinary surgeons to qualify from the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons. In 1852, Cooper's Dip was invented and became the first chemical treatment for afflicted sheep. England. C.1860

Internal Ref: 0447

Seller Details

Wakelin and Linfield

High Street Petworth West Sussex GU28 0AU United Kingdom
Opening hours: Tuesday to Saturdays 10:30 - 4:30 Or by appointment.

Tel: 07850 350829

International Tel: +44 7850 350829

