Description

A charming wheel-back Windsor armchair in elm and beech, with a pierced wheel splat, turned spindles and shaped arms. The generously carved elm saddle seat shows attractive grain and warm colour, with a comfortable seat height of 44cm. The chair stands on turned legs united by an H-stretcher, offering excellent stability and the honest, practical charm associated with regional Windsor work. There are small traces of historic woodworm, entirely inactive and long since treated, mentioned only for accuracy. Overall, a decorative and practical Windsor with lovely colour and age-learned character — ideal for a kitchen, hallway, or as a welcoming accent in any traditional or eclectic interior.
