Description

An antique Edwardian silver plated four-piece tea and coffee service comprising a coffee pot, teapot, twin-handled sugar bowl and milk jug. Each piece has an elegant classical form with striking fluted decoration to the lower body. The coffee pot and teapot feature polished upper sections, domed fluted covers with ebonised finials and angular ebonised handles. Both are raised on shaped circular pedestal bases, while the milk jug and sugar bowl have coordinating fluted bodies and angular handles. A handsome and practical service with an impressive decorative presence, ideal for serving afternoon tea or displaying within a dining room, drawing room or drinks cabinet. Please note that the silver plated tray shown in some photographs is not included and has been used for display purposes only. The tray is available separately under reference 3183, subject to availability. Condition report: In good condition with attractive signs of age and use. The silver plate has been polished and presents well.
