Description

These antique 9ct gold earrings feature simple round cabochons of deep blue lapis lazuli, each set within a smooth yellow gold frame. The rich tone of the lapis contrasts beautifully with the warm gold, creating a bold yet understated look that highlights the natural beauty of the stone. Lapis earrings with screw backs were particularly popular during the Arts and Crafts period, when jewellery design favoured strong colour and honest craftsmanship. The clean, uncluttered setting reflects that aesthetic perfectly, allowing the lapis to take centre stage. Part of our antique gemstone earrings collection. These lapis earrings are in very fine condition with only light signs of surface wear. They remain sturdy and the screw backs work perfectly.
