Description

A graceful vintage 18ct gold bangle featuring a gentle cross-over design, where two polished ends meet softly at the front, each set with a bright diamond. The stones are neatly bezel set, adding a clean and contemporary edge while maintaining a classic overall feel. The slim, rounded form gives the piece a light and fluid appearance on the wrist, with the diamonds adding a subtle point of interest without overpowering the design. A well balanced piece with a pleasing sense of movement and a warm, rich tone to the gold. Part of our second hand diamond bangle collection.
