Description

An exceptional example of English miniature cabinetmaking, this exquisite serpentine chest of drawers is fully signed and dated in pencil inside the top drawer: "A. F. Lloyd, Bideford, 1907." Crafted with remarkable precision, it faithfully reproduces the form and proportions of an elegant 18th century serpentine chest on a reduced scale. The carcase and drawers are constructed in mahogany, while the exterior is veneered in the finest West African satinwood, showcasing the cabinetmaker's extraordinary attention to detail and craftsmanship. Standing on elegant canted bracket feet with vertical tulipwood banding, the chest features four graduated drawers, each fully lined in mahogany and assembled with finely hand cut dovetail joints. Every drawer is fitted with handmade square ebony knobs, perfectly scaled to complement the refined design. The sides are beautifully decorated with large oval burr satinwood centre panels, framed by quarter-veneered fields and bordered with tulipwood banding separated by delicate boxwood stringing, creating a striking visual contrast. The top is equally impressive, displaying a beautifully figured satinwood veneer centred with an intricat...
