Description

A substantial Jacobean style oak dresser base of exceptional quality, dating from the early 20th century. Beautifully crafted in solid oak, the piece displays bold period-inspired styling with finely turned baluster supports, moulded details and rich, warm patination throughout. Its generous proportions and practical design make it an ideal addition to a dining room, kitchen or hallway. The moulded rectangular top sits above an arrangement of three dovetailed drawers, each fitted with decorative brass drop handles on pierced backplates. The drawers are separated by moulded uprights, while a finely carved dentil moulding beneath the top enhances the classical Jacobean character. Below, the dresser is supported by eight finely turned baluster legs, united by a full-length potboard undertier, creating an imposing architectural appearance while providing excellent strength and stability. Constructed in solid oak throughout, the dresser base has a deep, mellow colour and attractive grain, complemented by a durable finish that is well suited to everyday use. Dimensions Height: 34.5 inches – 88cm Width: 86.5 inches – 220cm Depth: 18.5 inches – 47cm
