Description

DESCRIPTION A handsome George III mahogany chest-on-chest dating from the last quarter of the eighteenth century. The upper section is surmounted by a moulded dentil cornice above two short and three long graduated drawers, flanked by reeded canted corners. The lower section is fitted with a further three graduated drawers and stands on carved bracket feet. The drawers are oak lined, reflecting the quality of its original construction. Well proportioned and offering excellent storage, this is a practical and attractive piece of late Georgian furniture.

DIMENSIONS Height: 182cm Width: 104cm Depth: 52cm CONDITION The chest is in good, solid condition and remains structurally sound. There is a key present that appears to be decorative only (does not work the locks). There are minor scratches, stains, knocks and other signs of age and use. There are some shrinkage splits, including to the left and right side panels, the front of the upper right-hand drawer, and the top drawer of the lower section. Some areas of veneer have been repaired during its lifetime, primarily one piece approximately 2cm long to the right hand side of the top section, and the brass handles are replac...
