Description

A brass oil lamp made by Eli Griffiths & Sons of Birmingham with their trade name on the outside dating it to 1915, this can be seen just underneath the sliding panel to access the oil lamp. The oil container is clearly marked Elis Griffiths & Sons Birmingham 1912. The lamp is complete and despite the need for an adjustment with a foot, it is in good condition. There are signs of old lacquer on the brass particularly around the sides and the top but most has been removed through cleaning over the years. The turned wooden handle is original and appears to once have been painted black. The oil lantern measures 34cm in height without the handle upright, and the sides are 11cm x 13cm. It weighs 2.5kgs. Postage and packing within the UK mainland only is included in the price and for remote areas or delivery abroad, please contact us for a delivery quote.
