Description

A handsome 19th century mahogany armchair upholstered in deep green leather, the back beautifully button-tufted in a classic diamond pattern. The seat is smooth and generously proportioned, standing at a comfortable 47cm high. Decorative stud head trim runs around the edges, adding definition and a touch of traditional detailing. The chair stands on well-shaped carved wooden legs, the front pair set on original castors for ease of movement. Curved solid wood armrests frame the seat, their warm patina contrasting beautifully with the green upholstery. A sturdy, elegant piece with real presence — ideal for a study, library, or fireside corner. Internal reference : SAI4243
