Description

A handsome 1930's drinks cabinet, Sourced on a recent trip to Paris. The exterior is clad in slim bamboo canes with a warm honey finish, framed by thicker canes at the edges for a clean, linear profile. It stands on sculptural cast iron legs with swivelling castors for easy movement. The front fall-down door is supported by a stay so it serves as an additional worktop or tray when open. Inside is an open compartment for bottles and glassware. To the front are decorative cast iron strapwork brackets and a round escutcheon with original working lock and key. The top has a painted surface that contrasts pleasingly with the bamboo and offers a durable place to mix and serve. A simple, well-proportioned piece that captures the relaxed, practical spirit of French design and would work equally as a cocktail cabinet, sideboard or hall console. Approx. dimensions: 87 W x 77 H x 44 D cm.
