Description

This delightful little Edwardian cabinet possesses hints of Aesthetic Movement with interesting geometric fretwork to the raised top and lower tier front alongside an attractive bevelled mirror and small glazed bookcase with working lock and key all raised on square tapered legs, super quality and condition. The mahogany is of a lighter more agreeable tone than of early pieces and it would have no problem slotting into a modern or period home with ease. As mentioned, the condition is lovely, with no fretwork missing or broken, original glass in place and sensible historic aging all round. A delightful piece of quality English Edwardian furniture C1910. Dimensions Overall: Height 143cm with Main Surface 91cm x Width 80cm x Depth 35cm with Main Surface 32cm Glazed Cabinet Inner: Height 42cm with Removable Shelf 21cm x Width 76cm x Depth 29cm Upper Shelf: Height from floor 117cm with Space underneath 25.5cm x Width 74.5cm x Depth 13.5-7cm (Mid-Sides) Lower Shelf: Height 16.5cm x Width 79.5cm x Depth 33cm
