Description

Mid 19th.c. kitchen dresser or sideboard in walnut c.1880. Solid walnut top with a deep applied thumb moulding to the front and sides. Over a row of three drawers across the top and a small central cupboard flanked with two large drawers of graduated height on both sides. Moulded drawer fronts to the upper drawers, an arched flame mahogany and crossbanded panel to the cupboard door and original glass knobs to the larger drawers. Solid walnut sides. Thumb moulded trip around the base and raised on the original turned feet. Note how the slightly recessed centre and the taller than normal feet allow the piece to be comfortably stood at as a kitchen worktop. Some wear to the top with a couple of obvious knocks to the moulding at the front centre. Otherwise very good colour and condition, cleaned and waxed in our workshops. Width: 71" (180.5 cm) Height: 33" (84 cm) Depth: 23.5" (59.5 cm)
