Description

A fine antique Chinese hardwood nest of tables, beautifully crafted and elegant open fretwork friezes. This graduated set of four nesting tables is made from dense hardwood, likely hongmu or rosewood, and showcases exceptional quality and traditional Chinese craftsmanship. Each table features intricately carved panels with scrolling foliage and bamboo-form legs, giving the set a refined and decorative presence. The graduated design allows the tables to neatly stack together when not in use, while also providing versatile functionality as side tables, lamp tables, or occasional tables. The rich dark polished finish highlights the depth of the wood and carving, making this an ideal statement piece for both traditional and contemporary interiors. Highly practical and decorative, this antique Chinese nest of tables will appeal to collectors, interior designers, and those seeking authentic Asian furniture with character and versatility. Dimensions: Height 72cm x Width 50cm x Depth 36cm
