Description

DESCRIPTION An elegant George IV figured mahogany secrétaire bookcase dating from the second quarter of the 19th century. The moulded cornice with scroll terminals above a pair of astragal glazed doors with attractive Gothic glazing bars, enclosing adjustable shelves lined with decorative paper. Below is a full-width secrétaire drawer, the fall-front opening to reveal a fitted interior with writing surface, small drawers and pigeonholes for correspondence and stationery. The lower section is enclosed by a pair of panelled cupboard doors opening to useful shelved storage on one side, and enclosed drawers on the other. Raised on turned bun feet, the cabinet displays particularly attractive figured mahogany veneers throughout and offers excellent proportions, combining display, writing and storage within a relatively compact footprint. A handsome and practical piece of early 19th century furniture, equally suited as a bookcase, display cabinet or home office secrétaire. DIMENSIONS Height: 237 cm Width: 114 cm Depth: 55 cm CONDITION There are the usual marks, knocks, scratches and wear commensurate with age and use. The figured mahogany has a rich colour and attractive pati...
