Description

Antique 20th century Arts and Crafts side table in oak, an excellent example of the movement's emphasis on quality materials, honest craftsmanship and functional design. Exceptionally well made and of the finest quality, this attractive table is both practical and full of character. The table features a useful magazine or storage rack beneath the top, providing convenient space for books, newspapers or other everyday items while maintaining its clean and understated appearance. Its well-proportioned design makes it ideal for use as a lamp table, occasional table or side table in a variety of settings. Crafted from beautifully figured oak, the timber displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, mellow colour throughout. The simplicity of the design allows the quality of the craftsmanship and the beauty of the wood to take centre stage, making this a particularly desirable example of Arts and Crafts furniture. Presented in good condition, this handsome oak side table combines timeless style with everyday practicality. A beautifully made piece that would complement both period and contemporary interiors, it is sure to make a wonderful addition to any home. Product Reference...
