Description

A fabulous looking decoratively carved English Victorian oak console table which would be the perfect way to brighten up a hallway or living room. The table enjoys some wonderful carving of real skill, delightfulness and charm including some little "stars" to the upstand and front, with a slightly menacing looking face to the high arched back plinth! Overall a great looking piece in lighter waxed oak. It sits well with sensible wear but nothing nasty and is ready for placing in your desired space after a session in our workshop. A fine looking table perfect for both a period and modern home, English C1900. Dimensions Overall: Height 106cm with Surface 76.5cm x Width 104cm x Depth 44cm
