Description

P0277 A Monumental Late-Victorian Solid Oak Overmantel or Floor Mirror, circa 1880. This spectacular 19th-century mirror is a masterclass in grand Victorian cabinetry, combining imposing proportions with exceptional hand-carving. The upper section features a cavetto cornice enriched with carved foliage, crowned by decorative bell-shaped finials. Below, a striking acanthus leaf frieze surmounts an elegant egg-and-dart inner border. The frame is flanked by magnificent, substantial reeded columns, detailed with ornate leaf capitals at the crest, scrolling motifs, and beautiful floral carvings at the base. The mirror retains its original 19th-century glass, displaying a light, authentic foxing that beautifully testifies to its age and heritage. Preserved in remarkable original condition throughout, the solid oak frame boasts its original finish—which has been expertly cleaned and hand-waxed alongside its original panelled timber backboards. Versatile in design, this statement piece can be positioned as a majestic overmantel mirror or used as a full-length floor-standing mirror. A truly monumental statement piece, this late-Victorian solid oak mirror brings architectural gran...
