Description

Antique 20th century Edwardian side table in mahogany, a refined and beautifully detailed piece that reflects the elegant cabinet making of the Edwardian period. Very well made and of good quality, it is distinguished by its superb decorative inlay and balanced proportions. The table is beautifully embellished with satinwood stringing, crossbanding and fine ebony stringing, creating an eye-catching contrast against the rich mahogany. Raised on elegant tapered legs with a practical undertier shelf, it offers additional display or storage space while maintaining a light and graceful appearance. The mahogany displays a deep, warm colour with attractive natural grain throughout, complementing the intricate inlay work and enhancing the table's overall character. Its desirable square form makes it particularly versatile, lending itself perfectly to use as a lamp table, occasional table or decorative side table. Presented in good condition, this attractive Edwardian side table is a fine example of quality craftsmanship and tasteful design. Combining elegance with practicality, it would make a charming addition to any home and is sure to be admired for its beautiful detailing. ...
