Description

A lovely and original joined oak stool with original timbers throughout and original peg joints. In excellent condition, sturdy and solid. One small shake to edge of one stretcher, not through just on the surface and old, stable and not going anywhere. The legs and seat are oak, the seat rails and stretchers are elm. From a local country house, with a very attractive natural warm and rich patina and a really great colour. A provincial stool with turned barrel legs and blocked stretchers and well shaped original top. Nice example, heavy and with a splayed shape for stability. Stools like this are rarely found in such original condition. Dimensions are: 18 inches high, 15.5 inches wide and 12 inches deep (all maximum)
