Description

A really nice quality pair of chairs with unusual mid-rail and well carved lapped legs, raised on brass mounts and steel castors. Similar carved lapped legs were used by Gillows during this period, however the mid-rail looks Scottish. The top rail is generous and well carved, and the timber on one chair is particularly striking. The overall chair design is elegant and well-considered giving the chairs a graceful outline and balance, in the trade this is described as 'standing well'. Both chairs are in good condition and structurally solid. There is a mark to the top cover on one chair, the filling is traditional horse hair and well-stuffed. Seat height 44cm. Transport throughout the UK can be easily organised at cost price.
