Description

A George V era silver mug or tankard, usually a christening gift, with clear hallmarks for Sheffield 1934, the Deco era, and makers mark for the renowned firm Atkin Brothers. Made of plain smooth silver, the mug has a tapered bowl set on a footed base with a fluted edge, a popular design at the time. The handle is superb with it's scrolled offset design adding elegance and impact to the piece. The interior is lightly gilded.. The condition is excellent and a lovely example.
