Description

A genuine vintage British travel trunk by Everwear, dating from the 1930s–1940s. A solid and characterful piece, originally made for long-distance travel, now perfect as decorative storage, coffee table, or statement interior accessory. The suitcase features its original Everwear British Made metal badge, timber framework, canvas-covered body, and original leather handle. The interior is lined with original striped paper lining, showing honest age-related wear consistent with its history. A beautiful example of early 20th-century British luggage craftsmanship. Good vintage condition. As expected for an item of this age, there are visible signs of use, including surface wear to the canvas, patina to the metal fittings, scuffs to the wooden edges, and age related wear to the interior lining. All wear is clearly shown in the photographs and adds to the authentic vintage character of the piece.
