Description

K0618 This magnificent, grand-scale English mid-Victorian overmantel mirror, dating to circa 1860, is an exceptional statement piece. Formed with a classic elegant arch, decorated frame showcases superior period craftsmanship. The piece features a finely carved, moulded architectural cornice rising above an intricate floral frieze. Exquisite decorative laurel leaf motifs run continuously throughout the frame, culminating in elegant scrolled foliage carvings at the base. Crucially, this rare find retains its original silvered glass. The plate features a highly desirable, subtle foxing and a mesmerizing antique sparkle that introduces wonderful depth and character to any space. Acquired directly from a private individual, this mirror is a true rarity due to its exceptional state of preservation and grand proportions. It remains supported by its robust, original panelled timber backboards and is fitted with four wall brackets, ensuring immediate and secure installation. The perfect anchor for a historic hearth or a striking focal point in a contemporary interior. c1850 H5ft7" W4ft3"-frame W5ft2" D3" H67" W51"-frame W62" D3" H170cm W130cm-frame W158cm D8cm
