Description

Beautifully crafted 20th century walnut veneered writing desk, combining refined craftsmanship with elegant classical influences. The desk stands on distinctive lyre-shaped end supports, inspired by Biedermeier and classical revival design, giving the piece a graceful yet architectural presence. The curved legs are enriched with delicate inlaid decoration, adding a subtle sense of luxury. The top is particularly striking, featuring a bookmatched walnut veneer with a rich, symmetrical grain pattern. This is framed by fine stringing and complemented by decorative floral marquetry in each corner, creating a highly refined surface. To the front, the desk offers three drawers, neatly integrated into the frieze and fitted with brass handles, providing practical storage while maintaining clean, elegant lines. Key Features: Elegant walnut veneered top with bookmatched grain Decorative floral marquetry and fine stringing Distinctive lyre-shaped supports with inlay detail Three drawers with brass pulls Classical proportions with decorative refinement 20th century, Biedermeier revival / classical influence This is an antique/vintage piece, and as such, it shows signs of age and...
