Description

A rare late 18th century (circa 1790) Continental mahogany commode of oxbow form and of generous proportions, possibly German. This unusual commode consists of a solid mahogany top of oxbow form to the front with a moulded edge. This leads down to four graduated drawers of oxbow form with superb quality brass handles and escutcheons, to either side the corners of fluted and stop-fluted design. This leads down to a moulded edge of oxbow form to the front, the sides of mahogany with moulded edge below all supported on four shaped ogee feet. To the reverse we have found a small brass plaque 'AGNEW' which probably relates to a previous owner. This commode is in very good condition for age, is of stable construction and can go straight into a home. Please note: the bronze has been used for photographic purposes only and is not included in the price. Size: Height: 36" / 91.5cm Width: 50" / 127cm Depth: 26" / 66cm
