Description

Antique 20th century small refractory style oak dining table, a beautifully proportioned piece that combines traditional craftsmanship with timeless country charm. Very well made and of good quality, its desirable smaller size makes it an ideal choice for kitchens, breakfast rooms or more compact dining spaces without compromising on character. The table is richly carved around the frieze, showcasing the attention to detail that has gone into its construction. Raised on beautifully turned legs united by a sturdy supporting stretcher, it offers excellent stability while maintaining an elegant and well-balanced appearance. The classic refractory-inspired design gives the table a welcoming presence that will suit both period and contemporary interiors. Crafted from quality oak, the timber displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour throughout. The attractive figuring, decorative carved detail and solid construction reflect the high standard of workmanship, resulting in a particularly desirable example with plenty of character. Presented in good condition, this charming oak dining table is both practical and highly decorative. A versatile piece of antique furniture...
